四、阅读理解 (本大题共 15 小题, 每小题 2 分, 共 30 分)

阅读下面的材料, 从每小题所给的 A、B、C、D 四个选项中选出最佳选项。

(A)

My name is Paul. Last summer, I worked as a volunteer in a hospital. I was asked to help the patients who were going to leave hospital. My job was to help them leave hospital in a shorter time. One day, someone called me to a ward (病房). When I came into the ward, I saw an old woman. She told me she wasn't ready to leave. She wanted to go to the gift shop. I got a wheelchair and took her to the gift shop.

We got to the gift shop at 8:00 am. It was not open yet. After a 30-minute wait, we went into the shop. The old woman was happy to be out of her ward. At first, she chose some books, and then she saw chocolates. She asked me to help her look through all the chocolates. Finally, she decided to buy three different boxes.

As she was paying for everything, she asked the cashier (收银员) for a pen, and then turned to me. She told me to write some words on the boxes. She said that the nurses were taking good care of her, so she wanted to buy some chocolates for them. Later, I took her back to the hospital. As we gave the nurses chocolates, they all felt surprised and shared their chocolates with me.

I got on well with everyone in the hospital. And there were smiles all around. To see the kindness between people was a gift for me, and for everyone.

46. What did Paul do at the hospital?

- A. He shopped for patients.
B. He answered patients' questions.
C. He helped patients who couldn't walk.
D. He helped patients leave hospital more quickly.

47. When did Paul and the old woman go into the gift shop?

- A. At 7:30 am.    B. At 8:00 am.    C. At 8:30 am.    D. At 9:00 am.

48. Who did the old woman buy the chocolates for?

- A. Paul.    B. Herself.    C. Her doctor.    D. Some nurses.

49. From the passage, we can learn that the old woman _____.

- A. got good care in the hospital
B. didn't want to leave the hospital
C. didn't have enough money to pay for everything
D. wrote some words on the chocolate boxes herself

50. What might be the best title for the passage?
 A. Being ready to help others
 B. Helping a patient choose gifts
 C. Giving the nurses chocolates
 D. Seeing kindness through a volunteer
 (B)

The World Tourism Organization says that space will soon become a popular place to go on holiday—possibly by 2020. One Japanese company is planning a space holiday centre. It will look like a bicycle wheel and have a very modern hotel for 100 people and a park. It will travel round the Earth at a height of 300 km. The company hopes the centre will be ready this year. The company manager says he thinks that flying to the centre will probably be quicker than flying from Hong Kong to Singapore. After they arrive at the centre, tourists can take trips to the moon or go for walks in space. What about the cost? Well, the company believes that people will be happy to pay about $100 000 for a trip. But they think that if more people want to go, the trip will become much cheaper.

An American company is also thinking of building a very modern hotel, called the Lunar Hotel, on the moon. Most of the hotel will be under the ground, so it won't become too hot or too cold. The rooms will look just like they do on Earth. The guests will eat normal food for lunch. The cooks will just push a button (按钮) to mix dried food with water to become a meal! There will be litter or no dirt and there won't be much water. So the hotel won't wash the towels and sheets (床单)—they will be thrown away.

51. The space holiday centre will look like a _____ wheel.
 A. bicycle B. bus C. car D. truck
52. Tourists can _____ after they reach the space holiday centre.

 C. will be on the ground D. will be very modern
55. The best title for the passage is “_____”.
 A. Hotels in Space B. Companies in Space
 C. Holidays in Space D. Life in Space
 (C)

Andrew Holleman, a 12-year-old boy, loved playing in the open land near his home. The land was wet and forested, and made a home for birds, other animals and many different plants.

It made the perfect place for him to study and get to know the nature. He had seen some red-tailed hawks, red foxes, wood turtles and other animals. He also found special native flowers.

Suddenly it was announced (宣布) that the “empty” land would be improved by a lot of houses on it. The plants would be removed, the animals would run away and most would probably die. Then the wet soil would be covered with modern buildings and houses.

When he heard about the news, he was not happy. He was very worried that the land and water would be dirty.

Andrew wrote down clearly all the research he had done about the area, and how the houses would affect the local environment. He sent letters to members of local government and television reporters. He also called on his neighbors to oppose the building of the houses.

Although he was only 12 years old, he had the courage and wisdom of a person much older. Andrew's teachers described him as gentle, shy and active. His classmates also admired how much he knew about local animals and plants, and the environment. Each day after school, Andrew went door-to-door, to ask the people to sign, who did not want the houses to be built. In only one month, he got the signatures (签名) of 250 people.

In the end, the land remained a safe place for birds, animals and plants that belonged there.

Andrew won many prizes for his brave and great work to stop the houses being built, and thus help save the environment.

56. The passage is mainly about _____.
 A. 250 people who signed to help Andrew
 B. a brave boy who cared for the environment
 C. the open land that suited animals and plants
 D. the research of improving the environment
57. The underlined word “oppose” in the passage probably means _____.
 A. support B. dislike C. disagree D. prefer
58. Andrew was very worried because _____.
 A. the animals would be killed
 B. new houses would be built on the open land
 C. not all neighbors were going to sign
 D. the local government made a right decision
59. According to the passage, Andrew _____.
 A. was good at going door-to-door
 B. got in no touch with the reporters
 C. usually acted like a person much older
 D. was praised by his teachers and classmates
60. We can infer (推测) that _____.
 A. the land would remain as it used to be
 B. the open land would be built into a park
 C. the neighbors would have to move away
 D. Andrew would soon work for the government

七、任务型阅读(本大题共5小题,每小题1分,共5分)

阅读下面短文,根据短文内容完成句子。

At many Thanksgiving dinners, everyone around the table shares something they are thankful for. As we know, most can do this easily. It's more important to know how to be thankful people all the time.

Be positive(乐观). No matter what happens, it's best to remember the good things. Find the bright side in bad situations, and push back against negative(负面的) opinions. Also, do your best not to compare yourself to others. But when you're around others, give expression to what you like about them. By keeping good in mind, you'll give thanks for it even more than before.

Accept the negative. At the same time, we can't pay no attention to bad things that have happened. We should learn from mistakes. It makes us become strong. Before we know it, we're thankful for negative things, too. Our mistakes can also make us humble(谦逊的), which is not all bad. Humble people have better relationships and see life's blessings(祝福) much more clearly!

Acts of kindness. Thankful people know that it's much better to give than to receive. When you're thankful, you feel it's your duty to show love to others. Some people volunteer to help people in need. Studies show that volunteers might feel happier and healthier.

Use of time. By spending time with others, you show them how much they mean to you. But being thankful is also better realized by spending time alone. When you're alone, you can think about the best parts of your day. You can list them out and think them over. You can find your way to make thanksgiving a part of your life. How wonderful it is! Just enjoy it every day!

71. No matter what happens, it's best to be thankful.

72. If you are thankful, you'll thanks for it even more than before.

73. At the same time, we had better pay much attention to negative things.

74. Learning from mistakes can make us stronger.

75. Studies show that volunteers may feel happier and healthier.
