In a history class, our teacher, Mrs Bartlett asked us to make a poster in groups about the culture that we were studying. She told us to write the names of three friends we wanted in one group and she would think about our 36.

The next day, I was told to be in a group I would 37 want—the boy who was too weak in English, and the two girls who wore strange clothes. Oh, how I wanted to be with my 38!

With tears (眼泪) in my eyes, I walked up to Mrs Bartlett. She 39 me and seemed to know what I was there for. I told her I should be in the "good" group. She gently 40 a hand on my shoulder. "I know what you want, Karma," she said, "but your group needs you. I need you to help them. Only you can help them." I was 41 and moved (感动的). Her words encouraged me.

"Will you help them?" she asked. "Yes," I replied. Then I 42 walked over to my group. I sat down and we started. Each of us did a part according to our interests. Halfway through the week, I felt 43 enjoying our group. We did a good job together. Nobody 44 Mrs Bartlett had believed in our group.

Amazingly, our group got an A. But I think we should hand the A back to Mrs Bartlett. She was the one who should truly 45 it. Mrs Bartlett brought out the potential (潜能) in four of her students.

四、阅读理解（本大题共 15 小题；每小题 2 分，共 30 分）

阅读下面的短文，从每小题所给的 A、B、C 和 D 四个选项中选出一个最佳选项。

One little miracle (奇迹) has been happening to me recently, and it gives me a special joy (欢乐).

A few months ago, I was telling my daughter, Sally, some stories about my mother. My daughter was so young when my mother died that she doesn't remember her well. I told her all I could remember, like how wonderful my mother was and how much she meant to me.

One day, Sally was sad because her grandmother was in heaven and she couldn't see her. I explained that though her grandmother was dead, now she was still watching over us and could send us something to let us know she was there. She could be anywhere, even riding invisibly (看不见地) on the back of a butterfly (蝴蝶). Just after I said this, a butterfly flew down right by us, and we laughed happily.

Now many people would say it was just luck that the butterfly flew down at that time. A funny thing, however, has happened since then. Every time I go out in any kind of weather I see butterflies. Very often they fly right by my face to get my attention. I always say hi to Mom, send her my love, and thank God for little miracles.

Everyone is always looking for some big miracles to come out and save them when they are in trouble, but they don't notice the little miracles that happen every day right in front of their eyes. I know what they really are, however. For me, little miracles are the best kind. So many little miracles happen around me all the time that I know they are not just luck.

46. When her grandmother died, Sally was _____.
 A. at school B. in trouble C. quite young D. not at home
47. One day Sally was sad because _____.
 A. she couldn't see her grandmother
 B. her mother told her a sad story
 C. her mother forgot her grandmother
 D. her grandmother sent her nothing special
48. What does the underlined word "they" refer to (指代)?
 A. Everyone. B. Butterflies. C. Grandparents. D. Little miracles.
49. What is the little miracle that has been happening to Sally's mom?
 A. She has a wonderful time with her daughter.
 B. She sees butterflies every time she goes out.
 C. She can make her daughter laugh happily every day.
 D. She often sees her mother ride on the back of a butterfly.
50. Which can be the best title for this passage?
 A. Butterflies and miracles B. Sally's grandmother
 C. Miracles are everywhere D. A funny thing happened to Sally

A group of 50 people were having a meeting. Suddenly the speaker stopped and started giving each person a ball. Each one was asked to write his or her name on it using a pen. Then all the balls were collected and put in another room.

Now these people were let in that room and asked to find the ball which had their names written in 5 minutes. Everyone was frantically looking for their names, pushing with each other, and there was chaos (混乱). At the end of the 5 minutes, no one could find their own ball.

Later each one was asked to randomly (随机地) collect a ball and give it to the person whose name was written on it. In 5 minutes everyone had their own ball, and the meeting ended. Everyone was thinking about it.

This is really happening in our lives. Everyone is frantically looking for happiness all around. They don't know where it is. Our happiness is in the happiness of other people. Give them their happiness, and you will get your own happiness. This is the purpose of human life.

51. Fifty people came together to _____.
 A. write their names on the balls B. have a tea party
 C. have a meeting D. find their happiness
52. What does the underlined word in the second paragraph "frantically" mean in Chinese?
 A. 沉默地 B. 疯狂地 C. 悠闲地 D. 担忧地
53. _____ found his own ball at the first round (轮) of searching.
 A. Everybody B. Somebody C. Anybody D. Nobody

54. According to the passage, how to get happiness?
A. Looking for it by giving B. Looking for it by collecting balls
C. Looking for it on our own D. Looking for it by asking for others
55. What is the best title of this passage?
A. Finding Balls B. What Is Life
C. Friends Are Important D. Finding Happiness

A 12-man Chinese team landed on the Antarctic icecap peak (南极冰盖 的高峰) on January 18. They are the first people to reach the peak of Dome A. It is 4,039 metres above sea level.

The team built a station there to study the changes of the weather, get ice samples (标本) from 150 metres to 200 metres below, and do other studies. So far, the team has got nearly 100-metre-long ice samples from a place about 300 metres under the icecap peak. It is the first time that people have been able to get samples from the icecap peak in Antarctica and it is very important for people to study the weather changes and environmental changes in this area.

The Chinese scientists have also built a weather study system at the peak. The system can send out information about temperature, how strong the wind is, and many other things about the weather.

The Antarctic icecap makes up 70% of the earth's freshwater. By studying Dome A, scientists can get the lowest temperature of the Earth and other information about the world's weather changes. We can't get the information from other places on the Earth because Dome A is the best place for this kind of studies. So it is very important to land on the peak of Dome A.

56. How many Chinese first landed on the Antarctic icecap peak?
A. 18. B. 12. C. 150. D. 200.
57. The team has got about 100-metre-long ice samples _____.

D. from a place about 150 metres below
58. The Chinese team built a weather study system to get _____.
A. the earth's freshwater B. ice samples from the peak
C. information about the weather D. the news about other countries
59. Which is the right order according to this passage?
a. The team built a station to study the changes of the weather.
b. A Chinese team landed on the Antarctic icecap peak.
c. The Chinese scientists have built a weather study system.
d. They got ice samples from the icecap peak.
A. b-a-d-c B. b-a-c-d C. c-b-a-d D. b-c-d-a

60. From this passage, we can infer (推断) that _____.
A. we can go to the Antarctic icecap peak for holidays
B. the world's weather must be better and better
C. the peak will be the best place for people to live on
D. our country will do better in the world's weather research
